

Fr. Matt's Musings

March 24, 2018

But I had promises to keep and miles to walk before I sleep, and miles to walk before I sleep. (Robert Frost)

Much of Jesus' ministry was on the road, walking from town to town. During those walks, he healed those who were injured, preached God's message of love and compassion and taught his disciples how to imitate and ultimately carry on his ministry. We prepare to walk with Jesus this next week on his journey to Jerusalem, into the garden of Gethsemane, and then finally to the Mount of Calvary. Walking, the road, the journey are all great images for the spiritual life. Holy Week celebrates a promise kept - a Savior who not only became one of us but also suffered and died for us to show God's unchangeable stance to be for us, to love us and to offer the gifts of eternal life and unending love to each of us. In gratitude to this God of love, we have the promise to keep - to imitate His generous love and miles to walk in loving service.

Happy Holy Week!

Live Jesus!

Fr. Matt

frhillyard@olgcv.org

www.olgcv.org

See what's happening on our social sites

